In 2011, after conducting long reflections on its history and its future, Union Nationale des Centres Recherche et Rencontres (UNCRR), founded in 1978 and recognized public utility in 1981, decided to change its constitution and its social denomination. The purpose was to transform this National Union into an European Federation of Associations Fighting against Isolation and for Suicide Prevention "FEALIPS" to adapt it to an environment that has evolved in 35 years and give a European dimension.

The Federation affirms its respect for the diversity of identities and specificities of its members, who themselves have to adhere to the principles and rules of ethics and professional conduct established by the Federation, declaring itself independent of any political or confessional belonging.

FEALIPS aims to bring together professionals or volunteers association members and to provide new insights and answers to isolation and suicide prevention problems by understanding and taking into account the European context.

FEALIPS members base their common membership of :

- will to act in favor of people with social, emotional or professional isolation,
- suicide prevention actions,
- support for the entourage of people who committed suicide.

Each member works on his geographic area, by his medical, social or medico-social skills. Coordinated action of different multidisciplinary skills partners is privileged to answer the difficulty for a person suffering from isolation to face itself to this situation.

Local or regional partnership formulas are favored : collaboration with governments, local and regional authorities, private and public organizations, associations, physicians from public or private service, social services...

FEALIPS ensures a multidisciplinary and comprehensive multireferential approach of its members.

UNPS 20th Days

With our 20 years of experience both at national and regional level, these days are designed to provide associations, professionals, volunteers and those involved in any field their projects visibility, their dynamism as their difficulties. The goal of these meetings concerns the place and role of suicide prevention, both in society in general that the place of each other, prevention actors.

These days of reflection and togetherness will be, hopefully, rich and open to diversity, associative pluralism and dialogue.
